JUNIOR CLASS HAD SUCCESSFUL MAGAZINE SALE

The Junior Class at Appomattox County High School engaged in a magazine sale to raise money to defray expenses for the 1977-78 year.

The students were given two weeks starting October 12th and ending on the 26th to sell as many subscriptions as possible. Prizes were given according to the number of magazines sold. These gifts ranged from candy bars to a radio tape player which was the prize given to the top seller, Sherri Harris, who sold 37 subscriptions. This was the grand prize. Each person's name who sold three or more subscriptions was placed into a pot to be drawn at the end of the sale. The lucky winner was Pam Smith who received a gift of $25.00.

The magazine sale proved to be a tremendous success for the Junior Class because the expected goal of $4,000 was exceeded by $691. This has been the most money ever raised by a junior class at ACHS since the magazine sales have been in existance. The Class of '79 would like to extend appreciation to the community for enabling them to reach their goal.

Gladstone Baptist Church Will Observe Homecoming

The Gladstone Baptist Church will have Revival Services beginning on Sunday, November 6 and continuing through Thursday, November 10.

The service on Sunday will be at 11 a.m. and the services in the evening will be at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Clarence Davis, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church in Vera, will be the guest evangelist for the week. The music will be under the direction of the pastor, Rev. J. N. Williams, and the church choir and church pianist.

There will be special singing in each of the sessions of this revival. A nursery will be provided for all babies.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Delta Zeta Chapter Notes

The Delta Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its second monthly meeting Wed., Oct. 26th, at the home of Vicki Lucado.

President Cheryl LeGrand led in the opening ritual.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Pat Megginson, authorized tupperware dealer presenting a slide on foods greatest storage containers, tupperware.

The Delta Zeta Chapter will be taking orders for tupperware between Oct. 26 and Nov. 9 as a money-making project. Anyone desiring to purchase tupperware may contact any Delta Zeta Chapter member on or before Nov. 9.

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 9th at the home of Annette Williams.

The sisters closed the meeting by repeating the closing ritual and the mizah.

JUNIOR FHA FASHION SHOW HELD

A Fashion Show was presented by the "Clothesline" for the Junior Chapter, Future Homemakers of America on October 27, 1977.

Mr. Jackie Evans, owner and manager of the "Clothesline" narrated for the Fashion Show. A wide variety of junior styles were shown from casual to dress wear. Some of the manufacturers were Briar Patch, Turtle Box, Maverick, You Babe, Jantzen, and Jerell.

The show was a big success!

TOPS News

It was Halloween early at the October 27 meeting of TOPS. The Halloween contest came to a close and boy did we enjoy it. Nancy Litchford was the winner. She got a nice pile of gifts. Lois Smith and Katherine Morris shared a bunch of gifts because they were runner-ups in the contest. Nice gifts were fine but the most fun was seeing what girl had the lowest amount of points. I won't reveal her name but I will tell some of the gag gifts she got. They are as follows: 2 old socks, a painter's cap, 2 pennies, an empty box, a spool with no thread, rubber bands, a curtain hook, playing card (Joker), ½ a greeting card, and some other things of equal value. She laughed and said she could use every one of them. We all had a lot of laughs that night. The contests helps us to lose weight because it is a joint effort. No one has to do it all alone. Overweight people need all the help and incentive they can get to lose and keep losing their excess weight.

The club had three new members or should I say past members join us again. They are Louise Saunders, Kathleen Garlick, and Colena Roberts. We're proud to have them with us again.

Sarah Vaughan was the best loser of the week with a loss of 4 pounds. That's great.

TOPS next meeting will be held on November 3, 1977 - Fidelity Branch Rock - Weigh-in 6:30 - Meeting 7:00 - See you there.

ELECTION NEWS

An urgent appeal to every Virginian

Governor Godwin explains the importance of the right choice November 8.

"A major decision for all of us"

"The coming election for Governor will be a major decision for all of us: a decision between a Virginia steady on her course, guided by her traditions, and a Virginia veering sharply in another direction.

"I ask you to remember that the Governor of Virginia appoints virtually all the heads of our state agencies. And he can remove them at will.

"He appoints more than 2,000 citizen members of various boards and commissions, who set the policies for those same state agencies.

"All he has to do is declare a state of emergency and the complete finances and personnel of every state agency are at his command. He, and he alone, can authorize almost unlimited budget deficits that you will have to pay for."

"The Governor runs this state"

"For ten months out of every year, while the General Assembly is in recess, the Governor runs this state, without restraint.

"I say to you that we cannot take a chance when the stakes are that high.

"I say to you that John Dalton must win."

Keep Virginia Great Vote November 8!

When you look at the record, the choice is clear!

Dalton	vs.	Howell
More jobs for Virginians John Dalton has helped Governor Godwin bring thousands of new jobs to Virginia, and he's going to make finding more new jobs in clean, stable industries a top priority in his own administration. John Dalton wants to keep Virginia working—and he wants to protect your right to work.	vs.	less industry for Virginia Henry Howell also talks about jobs. But Henry Howell favors the repeal of Virginia's right-to-work law—even though the repeal of similar laws has already driven industry and jobs out of so many other states. On May 13, 1965, the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot quoted him as saying: "I am for a union shop, and that means I am against the right-to-work law."
Better government service John Dalton says we can continue to have the state services we need without raising taxes. The Dalton answer: (1) Continued support for the economic growth that means extra state revenue without higher tax rates; and (2) government leadership that insists on a dollar's worth of service for every tax dollar spent.	vs.	bigger government spending While he's proposing new spending programs from post-card registration to tax-supported statewide election campaigns, Henry Howell has also said that he will veto any general tax increase. Of course, he may not consider your state income tax a "general tax." In the September 18 Roanoke Times & World News, he says he'd like to see income tax "restructured to raise the 5-3/4% rate currently in effect on taxable incomes as low as $12,000."
A new-energy program John Dalton has prepared a comprehensive energy program that combines conservation with a commitment to fully develop Virginia's coal, oil, and natural gas resources. The Dalton goal is energy independence for Virginia—and low-cost energy for all Virginians.	vs.	an unenergetic approach Henry Howell says he has offered Virginia a "ten-point energy program." Yet not one point in the program which he outlined February 8 and March 14 refers to energy production or indicates how Virginia is supposed to find additional fuel for our future needs—one of the greatest long-term problems we face.
The promise of understanding John Dalton believes that Virginia's public employees deserve good wages and a chance to be heard; but he is firmly opposed to any law that would allow union officials to take away the authority of our elected officials to make the final decisions on taxes and service.	vs.	the threat of public strikes Henry Howell supports collective bargaining privileges for public sector unions even though he knows that this has meant higher taxes, disruption of services, and increased strikes in California, Pennsylvania, and New York—whether or not such strikes were legal. In 1970, he was co-patron of Senate Bill 431, which would have allowed firemen and policemen to bargain collectively—and which authorized compulsory arbitration.
Individual participation John Dalton believes strongly in open government and public participation in the political process. And the more than 15,000 individual contributions to his campaign prove that the people agree.	vs.	union contributions Henry Howell says that he represents the people. Yet according to the July 17 issue of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, Henry Howell said yesterday he had asked 50 to 70 union leaders in Washington on Friday for about $550,000 in contributions for his Democratic gubernatorial campaign. In 1973, he received $159,000 from out-of-state interests.
A voice for tough laws "One sure way to reduce the crime rate," John Dalton says, "is to make sure the would-be criminal knows he will be arrested, tried, convicted and punished." But John Dalton does not believe we will reduce crime by robbing law-abiding citizens of their rights.	vs.	a vote against your rights In 1969, Henry Howell was the only state senator to vote against a constitutional guarantee of the people's right to keep and bear arms. This year in order to get votes he says there'll be no gun registration.

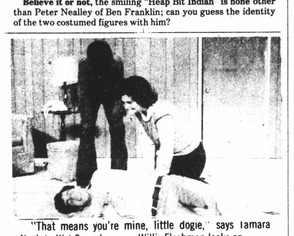
Shown above are some of the winners of the Costume Contest, one of the features of the Halloween Party at the Ben Franklin Store on Monday night, October 31. Free candy and cider added to the merriment as costumed guests shopped and enjoyed fellowship.

Believe it or not, the smiling "Heap Bit Indian" is none other than Peter Nealley of Ben Franklin; can you guess the identity of the two costumed figures with him?



"That means you're mine, little dogie," says Tamara Nash to Kirt Greenbaum as Willis Fleshman looks on.

ROCKS

October 31 - Halloween is here again with "Trick or Treat," heard from abroad in the land. This is the time we can say farewell to October and now our clocks are back on time with the sun. No need to try to get ahead.

The trees here are all dressed in the most beautiful colors. One is reminded of Psalm 19. The Heavens declare the Glory of God and the firmament showeth his handiwork.

Raymond Dickerson, who had surgery last week, is home from the hospital.

Rev. W. H. Elder was to see Mrs. G. P. Beasley, Sr. at the Wooldridge Nursing Home awhile one day last week.

The Sunday school class went to the Wooldridge Nursing Home on last Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Almond "are all smiles," it's a girl, Erin Noel, 8 lbs. 9½ oz., born on October 25.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Almond, who have another grandchild. A girl this time.

The acteens were Trick or Treating in a few homes on Wednesday night.

Sympathy is extended the Harris family in the death of Mr. Harris Saturday.

We had 221 for our homecoming and observance of our 205th anniversary on Sunday. It was high attendance day also. Our goal for attendance in Sunday School was 155 and we had 183. Thank you for coming and hope you were spiritually refreshed and went away rejoicing that you were in the house of the Lord.

The movie "What's Up Josh" will be shown during the worship service next Sunday night.

We welcome the Flemings to our community. They are living at Charlie Ranson's.

The rain was great last week, so farmers could get down tobacco. They are busy working on it.

The Rocks Extension Homemakers Club will meet at the Extension Office at Appomattox on Thursday, November 3rd at 7:30 p.m.

A speedy recovery is wished Mike Ranson of Farmville who is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Rosser of Pamplin were visiting the Rev. Ray Holly in South Carolina a week end recently.

ACHS Drama Club To Present Play

By Wesley Crabtree

Last year the ACHS Drama Club treated the public to an exciting comedy production, The Odd Couple. This year the Drama Club will again produce an exciting comedy. The play will be, They'd Hang You in Nashville by William Gleason.

What could a play contain to make it a hilarious, rip-romping time? Try two irresponsible, fledling songwriters, just out of high school and trying to make it in the world of music. Then add a grumpy, mean, pushy landlord who is anything but passive when the rent is overdue. Throw in a girlfriend, a big-mouthed lady singer, and "pow", you have a hit comedy smash.

Plan now to set aside November 10 and 11 to see this glorious production, as only the students of ACHS, under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Sweet, could do it. Tickets are only $1.00 advance and $1.50 at the door. Starting time will be at 8 p.m., so get ready for a roaring evening.

Come on out and really have a good time!

Adding Machine Tape, Cash Register Tape, Masking Tape, Scotch Tape - we have it all at THE TIMES-VIRGINIAN. Call 352-8215.
